A day before my final summer break as a grade schooler I, Yamamura Fuuta ran into a mysterious man who introduced himself as a "miraiya" He offered to sell me the future for 100 yen I decided to ignore such a dubious grown-up, but later he turned up at my house to return something I had dropped, and before I knew it, he was freeloading at my house! After my chance encounter with the miraiya, mysterious things began to surface in my once quiet rural hometown of Kamikushichou
